“The basics for major successful companies are working conditions and the benefits!”

“I probably would not be here if the benefits were not competitive. Once you get use to a baseline of benefits, you don’t want to lose that”

“The main reasons for staying here for so long ... is the type of work I like to do which is a combination of lab involvement and customer involvement in the field. Another reason for staying here so long rather than looking at parallel companies, is that the leadership environment that allows the professionals a good deal of freedom to do what they feel is best for the organization.”
